

The Port Lands

Sketching Toronto

Sketching Toronto is a creative walking tour of Canada's largest city and its vibrant neighborhoods. Studio Shtot celebrates our hometown through a series of creative, colorful, and often abstract sketches.

Welcome to your newest neighborhood, Toronto! Formerly an industrial zone built at the mouth of an artificially straight river, urban renewal and ecological planning are turning the Port Lands into a new neighborhood for thousands of people. While the buildings and streets of the future are built, the area south of the Gardiner is a sea of dirt mounds and smokestacks rising over busy construction equipment. Three colorful and graceful bridges have been placed over a newly created mouth for the Don River, which should reduce the risk of flooding and create a new healthy greenspace for the city.

Raphael Gutteridge for Studio Shtot

The Yellow Bridge

The Gardiner Expressway

View to Lake Ontario

Port Lands Energy Centre

